Families are eligible for services if they have a child with a severe disability, under the age of 21, and living at home. A severe disability is a physical, mental or emotional limitation which seriously restricts the child's ability to carry out basic daily living activities such as self-care, learning, communication, mobility, and self-direction.

Although family living income is not a basis for eligibility, cost-sharing may be required on a sliding fee scale.

Family Support is a state-funded program. Because each county has limited funding for this program, eligibility does not guarantee a family will receive services. Agencies may have waiting lists for services and assessments. Administering agencies may make the final decision on who is served and approve each family's service plan. The contact person at the county is the Family Support Coordinator.

Head Start provides comprehensive health, nutritional, educational, and social services to primarily low-income young children and their families. Head Start must serve children with disabilities. At least 10% of their state-wide enrollment must be children with disabilities.

The guidance of the Individual with Disabilities Act suggests that preschool age children with disabilities may receive their special education and related services in non-public school settings such as Head Start or other child care programs as long as the special education and related services meet the child's IEP and are under the supervision of the public schools.

E-mail: kbeckett53@hotmail.com

The Katie Beckett Program is designed for children 0-18 with chronic long-term disabilities or complex medical needs living at home. The child must require a level of care provided by a hospital, skilled nursing home, or intermediate care facility. Family income is not a factor. If eligible, the child would receive a Wisconsin Medical Assistance card, which could cover a number of prescribed services.

Public Schools

Call Your Local School District

See Schools, pages 91-93

Under the Individuals with Disabilities Act, it is the sole legal responsibility of the public school to provide special education and related services to eligible children with disabilities from age three to twenty-one. The IDEA regulations state that children with disabilities should be educated alongside their typically developing peers unless their disability prevents them from succeeding in the regular education environment with supplementary aides and services.

Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitters Examining Board

Department of Regulations & Licensing – Hearing Aid Dealers & Fitters Examining Board
1400 E Washington Avenue Room 173
PO Box 8935
Madison WI 53708
(608)266-2811

The Hearing Aid Dealers and Fitting Board was created to license and regulate hearing aid dealers and fitters because many seniors have problems with hearing aids that do not work well. If you have any questions about your hearing aid dealer, contact the Examining Board to find out if he/she is licensed or has complaints on his/her record. If you have a complaint about a dealer, they will investigate. Some of the violations you may contact them about are: (1) failure to properly test hearing aid of the person before selling a hearing aid; (2) telling a person that a hearing examination is the same as a medical examination or recommending a treatment for a medical condition; (3) obtaining or making a sale by fraud; (4) showing a model that is not available to customers in order to sell them a different model; (5) failure to supply a receipt to a customer who buys a hearing aid – the receipt must specify the terms of any guarantee and must be marked “used” when the hearing is not new; (6) incompetence or negligence in fitting and selling hearing aids. This service is free to anyone who has a hearing problem.

Hospice Hope is a program for persons with a limited life expectancy of six months or less who desire more aggressive treatment. An interdisciplinary team works with patients and their families dealing with their physical, emotional, social and spiritual needs, at a time when a curative approach to care is no longer appropriate.

Through skillful pain and symptom management and the supportive services of a professional and volunteer team, every effort is made to provide comfort and to enhance the quality of life for patients and families, enabling them to live as fully as possible.

Hospice Hope serves those with a limited life expectancy, such as:

- end stage heart, lung, liver, kidney or pancreatic disease
- cancer patients
- some neuromuscular diseases, such as Lou Gehrig's
- Huntington's chorea or other considered appropriate by physician
- AIDS patients
- Any condition considered appropriate by physician

The Hospice Hope nurse and/or social worker will explain the cost of Hospice services, which, whenever possible, are underwritten by Medicare, Medicaid, Blue Cross and the private insurers. The volunteer's service and bereavement care is free.

All families who need and desire Hospice Hope will receive services regardless of financial resources and available insurance. Hospice Hope relies on grants and donations to provide the funds necessary to provide this unreimbursable care.

Hospice Hope is a Medicare-certified, licensed Hospice agency.

Social Security Benefits

Government insurance program that helps provide financial protection to you and your family. It is a benefit that you have earned through payroll deductions from your past employment. To receive Social Security benefits you must apply for them. There are at least six types of Social Security benefits: 1) Retirement; 2) Survivor's Insurance; 3) Disability Insurance; 4) Lump-Sum Death Payment; 5) Medicare; 6) Supplemental Security Income (SSI). Contact your Local Social Security Administration Office three months before you retire or turn age 65.

Disability Insurance

A worker who becomes severely disabled before age 65 can receive Social Security Disability benefits. You are considered disabled if you have a severe physical or mental condition which prevents you from working and is expected to last for at least 12 months. Disability benefits begin on the sixth full month of your disability and continue as long as you are unable to perform substantial gainful work.

Lump-Sum Death Payment

A one-time $225 payment can be made to an eligible surviving spouse following the death of an insured male or female worker.

The Social Security Administration office in your area should be notified of the insured worker's death and a formal application must be done to receive this benefit. The surviving spouse will then receive either his/her own Social Security benefit or that of the deceased spouse, depending on which Social Security benefit is larger.

Medicare

Medicare is a Federal health insurance program for people 65 or older and certain disabled people. Medicare has two parts – hospital insurance and medical insurance. Hospital insurance can help pay for inpatient hospital care, inpatient care in the skilled nursing facility and home health care. Medical insurance can help pay for medically necessary doctor's services, outpatient hospital services, and a number of other medical services and supplies that are not covered by the hospital insurance part of Medicare. Medical insurance also can pay for home health care services. Men and women who are not receiving monthly social security checks should contact a social security administration representative three months before they turn 65 to sign up for Medicare. Those people currently receiving social security checks will receive their Medicare care in the mail automatically.

Retirement

Retirement income for workers and their spouses can start as early as age 62 (monthly benefits are permanently reduced if the worker or spouse choose to start collecting benefits before age 65.) When you apply for Social Security Benefits, you should have: 1) your Social Security; 2) Proof of your age, a Birth Certificate or Baptismal Certificate; 3) your Marriage Certificate if you are applying for wife's, widow's or widower's benefits; 4) your W-2 forms for the last two years of employment or a copy of your last two Federal income tax returns if you were self-employed.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI)

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a Federal Program for people 65 and older or blind/disabled individuals who have limited income and resources. To qualify, an individual is allowed up to $2,000 in liquid assets and a couple may have up to $3,000. The ownership of a home, care and ordinary household furnishings are not counted as assets. You must provide proof of your income and assets. If you are eligible to receive SSI payments, you will automatically receive Medical Assistance Health Insurance (Medicaid). Some people qualify for both regular Social Security benefits and SSI, some for Social Security only, and some for SSI only.

Survivor's Insurance

Hospice Hope is a program for persons with a limited life expectancy. An inter-disciplinary team works with patients and their families, dealing with their physical, emotional, social and spiritual needs, at a time when a curative approach to care is no longer available. All families who need and desire hospice hope will receive routine home care services by a nurse and social worker regardless of financial resources and available insurance.

HHA services are also provided along with volunteer support to allow persons to stay in their own homes.

TRANSPORTATION

All areas of Green Lake County are provided with "response to call-in", door-to-door transportation services to any person 55 years of age and older or any handicapped person. The priority areas of the programs are to provide transportation to medical appointments, congregate meal sites, and other personal appointments necessary for daily living. The services are available five days a week, Monday through Friday. The transportation director should be called two days before a local ride is needed and one week before medical appointments in larger cities. In Green Lake and Princeton, transportation is done by volunteer drivers using private vehicles. In Berlin and Markesan, transportation is done by a van this is equipped with a wheelchair lift for the handicapped.
